

Directions for Contributors to Organ Canada

Organ Canada welcomes articles on any aspect of the organ, organ music, and church music.

(1) Text of an article should be:

- submitted as a MS Word document,
- have the author's name immediately beneath the title,
- have the author's email address beside the author's name (in case of questions),
- be devoid of style formatting, but see the exception for organ specification tables at (4).

(2) High-quality, glossy illustrations (minimum resolution 300 ppi) are required. Illustrations and musical examples should not be inserted into the Word document but be submitted separately. The following formats are acceptable: TIF, JPG, EPS or PDF.

(3) Appended to the bottom of your Word document, for each musical example or illustration, should be a full description suitable as a caption and all necessary credits or acknowledgements. * This information should be appended to your Word document in the order you wish the illustrations and examples to occur, and the information should be keyed to the file names.

(4) An organ specification, when required as part of the article, should be formatted as a MS Word table (with borders made invisible), submitted as a separate attachment, and treated as in (3) above.

(5) Organ Canada has adopted the following style guides:

- For spelling: the first or primary spelling listed in the Gage Canadian Dictionary (Toronto: Nelson Education, 2013).
- For punctuation, abbreviations, and other mechanics of style: The Canadian Style (Dundurn Press).
- For titles of musical works and spellings of composers' names, the document at <http://content.ucpress.edu/chapters/2266001.ch01.pdf>

(6) Send all materials as attachments to one e-mail message to: organcanada@rcco.ca

*In all cases, the author has the responsibility of obtaining permissions for the use of copyrighted materials. A photographer's name will be published beside a photograph if and only if the photographer's name has been provided in the list described in (3) above. Contribution of a photograph implies that permission to use it has been obtained by the author.

Revised February 2023